

One Nation Bay Area Project

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

The One Nation Bay Area Project's Small Grants application cycle is by invitation only and it will be a competitive process among organizations. Please do not share or forward the invitation and application to other organizations. Applications will be accepted only between January 8th, 2013 and February 8th, 2013.

The San Francisco Foundation, Silicon Valley Community Foundation, Marin Community Foundation and Asian Americans/Pacific Islanders in Philanthropy (AAPIP) partnered with the One Nation Foundation (www.onenationfoundation.org) to strengthen relationships between Muslim and non-Muslim communities in the Bay Area. These Bay Area community foundations and AAPIP have been investing and working with Arab, Middle Eastern, Muslim and South Asian (AMEMSA) communities over the past decade and are pleased to announce the final year of these small grants fund to:

1. Strengthen relationships among and between American Muslims, non-Muslim partners, and their neighbors by creating welcoming, safe and inclusive spaces and opportunities for them to partner with each other on common community concerns.
2. Increase the civic participation of American Muslims by supporting inclusive partnerships to address key community issues.

One Nation Bay Area Project Description

A decade after the events and reactions to 9/11, the national dialogue regarding American Muslims continues to be plagued with hateful rhetoric, prejudicial attitudes, and myths. The Bay Area is not without its local examples of prejudicial attitudes among local public officials and hate crimes reported at public hearings.¹ The One Nation Bay Area Project provides the three community foundations and AAPIP with an opportunity to support creative community solutions and partnerships between American Muslim and non-Muslim communities that address social, educational, cultural and economic issues in the Bay Area. It also presents the opportunity to continue to deepen our understanding of the American Muslim community, including demographics, immigration patterns, and current levels of civic participation. The information gleaned through this project will help shape future grantmaking priorities, foster better relationships with American Muslim communities, and inform programs and services available to Bay Area American Muslims.

¹Sikh Coalition Hearing, August 28, 2011 in Mountain View, CA

Grantmaking: Small grants up to $10,000 will be made to support civic engagement efforts that bring together American Muslim and non-Muslim leaders and residents to address community issues of common concern. We expect to convene grantees at least twice throughout the grant period to support mutual learning, deepen relationships and encourage future collaborations.

The following types of projects are examples of competitive requests:

Competitive projects will meet One Nation Bay Area project goals to build and strengthen relationships between non-Muslim and American Muslim community members by focusing on community solutions at the neighborhood, local or regional level. Types of projects that will be considered are:

Interfaith Social Action

- Interfaith social action and/or community service projects

Working on community solutions

- Neighborhood or school-based projects that bring residents and parents/guardians together to tackle a community or school concern

Cross-community engagement

- Community-based/grassroots-level projects that seek to broaden the base of support on a community issue to include American Muslim and non-Muslim voices on that issue or need

Leadership Development

- Local or regional training of American Muslim residents to engage in community problem-solving (trainings may include participation by other non-Muslim community members as well)

Other types of projects will be considered. These are examples only.

Selection Criteria: The following is a list of some of the criteria that will be used to assess applications:

1. Priority given to collaborative community solutions that promote relationship building, alliances and partnerships between non-Muslim and American Muslims
2. Collaborative projects that can be addressed in the short term
3. Collaborative projects that demonstrate inclusive and equitable participation principles
4. Collaborative efforts that build on current community work (new community collaborative projects are welcome and will be reviewed on the quality of the proposed work)
5. Alignment with one or more of the following issue areas:
 - social justice and civil rights
 - immigrant integration
 - civic engagement ²
 - community development
 - community service
 - interfaith understanding
6. Evidence of collaborative relationships and their buy-in on proposed project goals
7. Clear description and realistic project goals
8. Compatibility with organizational or collaborative mission and demonstration of how the project furthers the work of collaborative members
9. Clarity about the benefits and challenges of the project
10. Appropriateness of budget request to the proposed collaborative activities

Eligibility: Grant funds will be awarded competitively to invited applicants only. You do not have to be a current or past grantee of a participating community foundation or AAPIP to apply for funds.

Funding requests for one-time events will not be competitive unless they are part of a broader campaign or strategy.

² Definition of civic engagement: There are many ways in which people participate in civic, community and political life and, by doing so, express their engaged citizenship. From volunteering to voting, from community organizing to political advocacy, the defining characteristic of active civic engagement is the commitment to participate and contribute to the improvement of one's community, neighborhood and nation.
